City Attorney's Office

Background: Why a Code Cleanup?

- Dallas City Code spans decades of ordinances—some outdated or unenforceable.
- State and federal laws have changed, preempting local regulations in several areas.
- Departments identified inconsistencies, outdated language, and redundancies.
- As part of the City Manager's 100 Day Plan, City Departments set out to align City Ordinances with current laws, practices, and organizational structure

What is the Omnibus Ordinance?

- A single ordinance updating, repealing, or clarifying sections across multiple chapters.
- Targets duplicative, preempted, outdated, or unenforced code provisions.
- Streamlines regulations while preserving key City authority and responsibilities.

Why This Matters Now

- Outdated or preempted ordinances pose legal risks to the City.
- Unenforced laws create confusion for the City and residents.
- Aligning with state/federal law ensures enforceability and compliance.
- Modernized code supports clearer service delivery and enforcement authority.

Review Process and Department Collaboration

- Multi-departmental review: All Departments asked to review relevant codes and identify those that should be identified in the Omnibus Ordinance Cleanup
- Over 150+ code sections screened for enforceability and legal standing.
- Final legal vetting done in coordination with City Attorney's Office.

Highlights of Outdated or Unused Provisions Removed

- Ch. 13A: Dallas Transit System (pre-DART) repealed.
- Ch. 39: Railroad regulation eliminated (federally preempted).
- Other deletions: Loan brokers, private detectives, tree/utility rules from 1940s.

Updates to reflect current City Practices

- Ch. 2: Reflects shift in real estate services to Facility and Real Estate Management.
- Ch. 18: Updates on trash collection, bulky waste, and franchise rules.
- Ch. 12B & 28: ATM siting and parking enforcement updated for current operations.

New Health and Safety Standards

- Food establishments now required to display allergen awareness posters.
- Dog-friendly patio provisions removed to align with revised state food codes.

Changes from COVID-Era & Legal Challenges

- Ordinance 32346 (eviction notice requirement) repealed—no longer enforced by JP courts.
- Chapter 20 (earned paid sick time) repealed—state law preempts.
- Chapter 52: Removes rest break mandate due to legal uncertainty.

Simplification and Clarity

- Chapter 1: Clarified definitions for 'city health officer' and removed 'county' definition.
- Chapter 43: Streamlined permit processes for right-of-way uses and news racks.
- Multiple sections reworded or merged for ease of enforcement and clarity.

Summary and Next Steps

- Multiple chapters amended, repealed, or clarified
- Cleans up legacy rules and provides transparency
- Omnibus Ordinance sets the stage for future policy modernization and enforcement alignment.
- Next steps: For Council consideration and adoption in June.
