Racial Equity History & Milestones

1916 - Dallas passes a referendum to become the first city in Texas to allow racial housing segregation. Ordinance was invalidated by Texas Supreme court in 1917 but replaced by similar measure in 1921.

1930s - Homeowners' Loan Corporation (HOLC) created maps that rated neighborhoods largely based on demographic makeup for federal mortgage loans, redlining African American, Mexican, other marginalized groups as "risky" thus impeding homeownership among communities of color.

1950s - Leveraging eminent domain, the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1956, and other legislation to clear "slums" and build public housing, communities of color were disconnected, dislocated and segregated into select neighborhoods.

1968 - Congress passed the Fair Housing Act of 1968; the purpose of the Act was to prevent discrimination and reverse housing segregation.

Community Insights

Overarching Key Themes

EDUCATION LANGUAGE DIGITAL DIVIDE

Community members who have been systemically excluded desire the opportunity to participate in and contribute towards our city's tremendous shared prosperity.

There is a clear community appetite for more progress and fewer plans. Residents are cautiously optimistic that department-level equity progress measures provide an avenue for greater government accountability and leadership.

Communities of color and lower-income neighborhoods are calling for access to safe, healthy and connected communities with affordable and quality housing.

Key Themes & Goal Setting

REP Big Audacious Goals Process

REP Big Audacious Goals

and civic life of Dallas.

Housing Goal: Seek to address the homeownership racial gap and secure housing stability.

wealth gap thru workforce and economic inclusion. Acknowledge the contributions of economic development and human development in equity priority areas. Eliminate racial communities of color in Dallas by fostering full participation and expression in the cultural Infrastructure Goal: Where intentional historical disinvestments occurred, make substantial infrastructure investments in equity priority areas.

Economic, Workforce, & Community Development Goal: Prioritize equitable

Public Safety and Wellness Goal: Make communities safe in ways that prevent harm and promote wellness, healing and justice.

Environmental Justice Goal: Advancing EJ by addressing the disproportionate impact pollution and climate have on communities of color.

¹⁰ Honorable Mayor and Members of the City Council

SUBJECT WEE Committee & REP Presentation

The Office of Equity and Inclusion (OEI) continues to work with external stakeholders and City departments to develop the first Racial Equity Plan (REP). On June 13, 2022, OEI will provide an update of the REP to the Workforce, Education & Equity Committee and brief the full City Council on August 3, 2022.

The REP is a strategic framework to support the City of Dallas in understanding and addressing disparities across Dallas. The plan is being developed in collaboration with residents, communities, nonprofits organizations, businesses and other stakeholders. It is intended to leverage current City plans, policies, and initiatives with measurable goals which address racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic equity.

Please find attached to this memo the REP draft department progress measures (DPMs) from forty-two City departments/offices and a listing of the overarching transformative, interdepartmental goals referred to as Big, Audacious Goals (BAGs). Our intention is to receive insights from WEE Committee members on the DPMs and BAGs at the WEE Committee meeting on Monday, June 13th.

The REP team continues to conduct engagement and receive public input on the measures and goals and looks forward to your review and insights.

Should you have any questions or concerns or be interested in a co-hosting a community engagement, please do not hesitate to contact me or Dr. Lindsey Wilson, Director of the Office of Equity and Inclusion, at lindsey.wilson@dallas.gov
